

ACCESSIBILITY

At RSA we are committed to communicating in a clear and effective manner.

We have a Web Accessibility policy that states “All RSA sites and their content must be written to be as accessible as reasonably possible”. Our target is to conform to ‘Double-A’ standard as set out by the Worldwide Web consortium (W3C), who are the experts on accessibility.

If you incur any problems using our site or require information in another format, please contact us.
